

Hurry Up Your Conundrums.
A DOUBLE GOLD EAGLE FOR THE BEST ONE.—THE NOVEL CON-TEST CLOSSES THIS WEEK.
See To-Day's Evening World.

PRICE ONE CENT.

IT MAY STOP THE WEDDING.

TROUBLE BETWEEN MR. VAN SALZAN AND THE GHERLINGS.

He Sold the Engagement Ring, Got Drunk and Beat His Bride Betrayed—Her Daughter Interfered with a Pitcher, and the Police Intervened at a Very Opportune Moment for Mr. Van Salzan.

William Van Salzan, a runaway longshoreman, looked as if he had been run over by a train of cars and then straightened out in a wringing machine when he was marched up before Justice Gorman in the Tombs Police Court this morning.

His eyes were in mourning. Great chunks of flesh were cut out of his face and his clothes hung about him, tattered and melancholy looking.

"What is the matter, William?" asked the magistrate.

"Nothing now. I am happy just at present, but I had a little trouble with a wildcat last night, and I got the worst of it. Send me to prison, but don't send me back to her," he concluded plaintively.

Policeman McCarthy, who arrested William, explained the case in a different light. He said that between 10 and 11 o'clock last night Bleeker street was aroused by shrieks of "Murder!" "Fire!" "Watch!" and "Police!"

Endeavoring to locate the cries, he heard the crash of furniture and crockery in a little restaurant on the floor of a lodging-house at 22 Bleeker street, just opposite the Florence Mission.

McCarthy tried to get in, but the door was locked. While he was knocking for admission a tremendous crash indicated that the stove, stove-pipe, a table and perhaps one of the walls had been torn down together.

He could not break in the door, and a swinging oil lamp dimly illuminated a scene of dire confusion.

The floor was littered with wrecked furniture, broken dishes, and a man and a woman were crouching behind the wreckage.

While investigating, the policeman heard a squealing and screaming behind the little oyster counter. Going behind there they found two women and a man twisted up in a hard knot, pummeling one another for dear life.

The man was underneath. With great difficulty the officers untied them, and then the women insisted on having Van Salzan arrested.

Mrs. Leopoldine Gherling, the proprietress of the restaurant and the lodging-house, and her eighteen-year old daughter were the other combatants in the fight.

Mrs. Gherling told a tale of woe. Van Salzan lodged with her, and during his leisure hours made love to her. She resented. On Sunday he proposed to marry her, and she refused.

She upbraided him for his heartless conduct. He hit her on the nose with a sugar bowl. Her daughter struck him with a pitcher.

They both failed in to whip them both, but got the worst of it. He was arrested and locked up in the Mulberry street station-house last night.

Mrs. Gherling has evidently relented and does not want him punished, for she did not appear to prosecute this morning.

Justice Gorman remanded the prisoner, however, and directed the officer to have the women brought to court to appear against Van Salzan.

MRS. WAITE'S DIVORCE SUIT.

SERIOUS ALLEGATIONS TO BE MADE ON BOTH SIDES.

The case of Amy J. Waite, who is suing her husband, Alton E. Waite, for absolute divorce, was on the calendar in Part I. of Brooklyn's Circuit Court to-day, and will come to trial probably to-morrow.

The suit was commenced in the early part of last December, and the divorce is asked for on the statutory grounds.

Mrs. Waite is represented by Lawyer Sidney Williams, of 16 Court street, Brooklyn, and R. H. Lamber Jr., is husband Waite's counsel.

The couple were married on Christmas eve of 1878—over fifteen years ago.

They have had two children, both girls, one of whom is thirteen years old, the other ten.

When lived together until a couple of years ago, they for some unexplained reason separated. The children remained in the custody of Mrs. Waite, who afterwards sent them to live with some of her relatives.

Mr. Waite claims that he has paid their board regularly.

The divorce proceedings were begun some time in the early part of last December.

Mrs. Waite charges her husband with living on intimate terms of friendship with a woman named Cummings, at 86 Livingston street, Brooklyn, and at various times between July 1 and Nov. 24, 1888, he accompanied the woman to 440 Smith street.

Mr. Waite makes a general denial of his wife's allegations, and in his answer he charges his wife with being unfaithful to him. He alleges that she stopped at a house on Winter street, Boston, with a man named Chase.

He mentions several dates during the month of March, and charges his wife with being intimate with other men, whose names he does not know.

The case will be brought to trial, probably to-morrow, and some spicy testimony is expected.

Celebrating a Silver Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McKernan celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding last evening by entertaining a large gathering of their friends at their residence, 239 Sixth street, Jersey City. The presents were exceptionally numerous and costly.

Among the guests were Mrs. Gallagher, Miss C. Thompson, Miss E. E. Rulph, Mrs. W. W. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Smith, Miss A. Smith, Mrs. T. W. Conliffe, Miss A. Fred-

Singing and dancing were indulged in until a late hour, and the affair passed off in a most pleasant way.

Windows in Withdrawings.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101 East Fifty-ninth street, yesterday.

Miss Booth was born in 1831, and in her early youth was a devoted follower of the Quakers. She had been editor of Harper's Bazar since it started, twenty-one years ago.

"Spring Styles."
REPRESENTATIVE'S Celebrated Hair. One Hundred and Eighteen (118) Hairs at $2.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—Col. Andrews, of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway Company (Eads' Transatlantic ship railway), has received the resignation of William Wisdom as President of that concern.

The Mexican Government will guarantee interest on the $60,000,000 estimate of the cost of constructing the road, in the event of any deficiency in the earnings.

Winning a Silver Wedding.
Pittsburg, March 6.—The banquet given by the French Ambassador yesterday evening was a brilliant and successful affair. It was attended by the Emperor and Empress, Field-Marshal von Moltke and the leading dignitaries of the army and state. Cordial feeling prevailed and the Emperor emphasized it by word and manner.

Death of a Clever Editor.
Readers of Harper's Bazar will be sorry to hear of the death of its bright editor, Miss Mary L. Booth, which occurred at her home, 101